

LOGLINE

"The ocean seems like a really boring place... Can someone take me home? I can still make it in time to watch The Champions league!"

The main character is irony embodied in fish form. Completely out of place, though he refuses to admit it.

A stubborn fish with plenty of charm. Impossible to convince of anything, but so charismatic that everyone ends up liking him. An unlikely mix between Bill Murray in Groundhog Day and Shrek.

MAX

SYNOPSIS

Max has spent his entire life in a penthouse in a seaside city, living with Eugenio and Alicia, two very friendly humans. As a result, his personality and way of thinking are surprisingly human.

However, one day, the unexpected happens: after a dramatic mishap, he gets a mighty smack that sends him flying. He crashes violently onto the ground, but miraculously survives.

Unconscious, he drifts through a stream of wastewater until he is swept into a sewer... and from there, he gets carried through the entire city's underground system, eventually reaching the ocean!

But Max refuses to accept his fate—after all, he finds the ocean unbearably boring compared to watching YouTube and TikTok. Determined to return to his cozy fishbowl, he embarks on an adventurous journey.

Along the way, he meets a host of characters who challenge his beliefs, forcing him to rethink his nature and, ultimately, the meaning of life itself.
